First hand adventure with a fur trade theme

The second half of summer: affordable activities for the whole family

It's August 1, which means there are still almost five weeks of summer to enjoy. If you've been away on vacation and blown your summer budget, if you are only able to get away for a few hours or a day at a time, or if both time and money constraints have you in the midsummer doldrums, here are a few activities that you and your family can enjoy right close to home, at an affordable price of $5 or less per person:

Elk Point Library's Summer Reading Program - $1 per session; Monday, 1:30 to 3:30 for ages 4 to 7, Wednesday, 1:30 to 3:30 for ages 8 to 11. This year's theme is "Bugs in Space" and the program includes stories, crafts, games and more to keep your youngsters entertained on a lazy summer afternoon. And don't forget: the air conditioned comfort of the library is a great place to spend an afternoon, with the latest magazines, the newest best-sellers and all your old favorites on the shelves to enjoy while you keep cool. You can also check out the library's ongoing book sale, where a bundle of books will cost you just $1 and will provide many hours of enjoyment whether you're at the beach or in a lawn chair in your back yard.

Elk Point Agricultural Bench Fair - $1 per person allows you to enter as many items as you want in a total of 491 adult or 127 junior categories, with ribbons and prize money going to the top three items in each category. Entries will be taken at the A. G. Ross Arena from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, August 12, with public viewing on Sunday, August 13 from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m., and the prizes awarded at 6 p.m. Fair books and tags to put on your entries are available at the Elk Point Review. Or... if you just want to view the exhibits, $1 will get you in to see the best of this year's vegetables, fruits, flowers, canning, baking, crafts, etc., plus this year's featured display of quilts, both old and new. Exhibitors get in free, as do children under 6 who attend the fair with their parents.

Elk Point Historical Mural - FREE - take a walk through Mural Park, and get a lesson in local history as you see the native leaders from the time of the Northwest Rebellion, the pioneers who broke the sod and built the town, memories of the two World Wars which took our young people to fight in far-off lands, the coming of the railroad, the building of the hospital with its beloved pioneer doctors, the sports and cultural activities which made this a vibrant community. See how many people you can recognize in the giant parade of volunteers which spans the decades from the building of the first bridge to the building of the second. Mural brochures are available at the Tourist Information Centre and at the library. Glimpse more of the past at Kuhn's Kollektibles, where a good selection of antique furnishings and accessories are on display, just two doors west of Mural Park.

Fort George and Buckingham House Interpretive Centre - $3 for adults, $2 for seniors, $1.50 for children, $8 per family will take you on a time-travel trip back to the fur trade days. You can walk in the footsteps of the fur traders at the original sites of the two forts, and enjoy a multi-media story of the fur trade in the comfort of the air-conditioned interpretive centre. Youngsters from 6 to 12 years of age are invited to attend the Forts' Day Camp each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. Registration is at 12:45 so the program can start right on time. The fee of $5 per day includes an afternoon snack. Phone 724-2611 for more information. Also coming up is the Fort Des Prairies Jamboree at the Forts on Sunday, August 27, where you can enjoy a whole afternoon of country-style entertainment. Bring along your lawn chair!

Fur and Feathers Petting Farm - $2 per person - is fun for the whole family with their collection of exotic birds, cute and friendly animals. They are open daily, 8 km. north of Elk Point on Highway 41, 3 km west on Highway 28, 9 km north on Lakewood Road and 1.6 km west. Watch for signs. Call 724-2006 for more infor-

Whitney Lakes Provincial Park has day use areas at Whitney and Ross Lakes. Watch for the 206 species of birds that make their homes there, and try out their network of hiking trails which include a 1.7 km interpretive trail at Ross Lake. Whitney Lake also has a great beach for swimming or sunning, and Ross Lake has three beaches, one with adjacent playground, in their 147-site campground. Call 943-2320 for information on camping fees and special events.

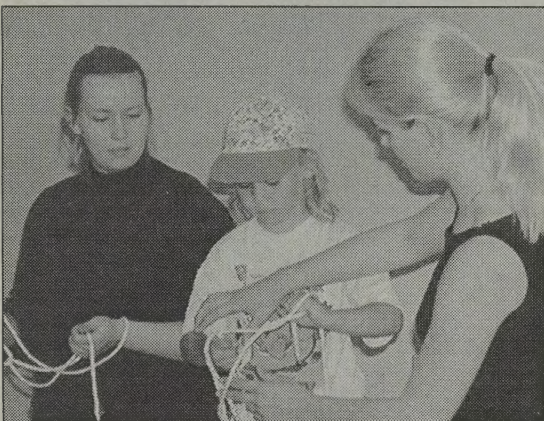

Or... you could take a hike on the Iron Horse Trail... picnic at Stoney Lake, with a wild west playground for your youngsters to enjoy... enjoy an ice cream cone at any of several locations... tour Steve Andrishak's amazing collection at the Elk Point Pioneer Museum (call 724-3654 for an appointment) or see the Lindbergh plant of the Canadian Salt Plant (call 724-3745 to book a tour). Drop by the Elk Point Tourist Information Centre for even more ideas for summer fun!

Surprising find near Stoney Lake

DUGOUT DISCOVERY - Stoney Lake area rancher Cliff Swedgan was excavating a dugout in his pasture when, 20 feet below the surface, he came upon a large quantity of well preserved logs and a layer of soil well studded with snail shells. He contacted Alberta Environment, who were quite interested in the find. Swedgan plans to have some of the wood tested to determine its age and possibly find out how it came to be so deep below the surface of this valley in the rolling hills of his pasture.

Amanda Edwards and Amy Vidal show one of the summer readers how to magically tie a knot during the "A & A Traveling Show" at the St. Paul Municipal Library on Tuesday. The show kicks off the Northern Lights Library Systems summer reading program. Amy and Amanda will be traveling to all of the member libraries this summer.

A little magic at the library this summer

A & A Traveling Show kicks off performance in St. Paul

By Rhonda Lafrance
Staff Writer

Kids! Be prepared for a little Amy and Amanda in your life this summer.

The two summer students are part of the "A & A Traveling Show" hired by the Northern Light Library System to perform at all of the member libraries.

They kicked off their show at the St. Paul Municipal Library last Tuesday in front of over 80 children in the summer reading program.

The theme for this year's summer reading program, which is produced with six other provincial library systems and Edmonton Public Library, is "Mission 2000: Bugs in Space."

Amanda Edwards and Amy Vidal are both from Vermilion and attended school and 4-H together. They are both attending the University of Alberta with their end goal of becoming school teachers.

Hired on by Northern Lights through the federally-funding Student Career Placement program, Amy and Amanda organized a workshop in June for all of the library coordinators who will run the summer reading programs at each of the member libraries throughout the summer.

"We came up with ideas for crafts and other activities to keep the kids entertained," said Amanda.

They also came up with the traveling show. The first 45 minutes or so features a variety of magic acts that Amy and Amanda came upon from none other than books from the library.

After the magic tricks are complete, the duo tells a story and makes colorful balloon animals at the same time.

Amy says they have 18 shows to complete in total and they will wind them up in Thorhild on August 18. The next show in the area is in Elk Point on August 9.

"We try to change the shows to meet the audience, whether they are younger or older. There are also different lengths of shows, depending on how much time each library books us for," said Amy.

This is the first time Northern Lights has two students to head a program like this. They will be evaluated once their shows are complete.

Now, is that Heritage Day or just a civic holiday?

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

This coming weekend is our August summer long weekend. Why and what will we be celebrating? I remember when this holiday, the first Monday in August, was established by the then Minister of Culture for the Province of Alberta. It was to be known as "Heritage Day." We were to acknowledge all the different nationalities that make up our country. By becoming aware of each other's ancestral roots, we would have the opportunity to learn about each other's cultural background. Hence the now famous Heritage Day Celebration in Edmonton.

This year, we learned that the UNESCO developed a special theme for the year 2000. It was proclaimed to be "The International Year for the Culture of Peace." In Elk Point, our July 1st celebrations centered around that theme. Floats were decorated with that theme in mind and our Canada Day stage performers focused on the culture diversity in our Elk Point area. A variety of entertainment explained it all. Dancing was demonstrated by the beginning dancers of the Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club as well as the dancers brought by Homer and Liz Poitras. As Liz Poitras said: "Our mixed blood gives us quite a few cultures to look at." Between the dancing, the audience was able to listen to songs sung by the youth as well as from those who are "a little bit older." The songs chosen represented feelings we all share.

Along with our cultural diversity, it is nice to know that as we all live together, we gain respect and tolerance of each other's differences.

After all, we are all Canadian citizens. Canada has matured as a bilingual country with a rich, multicultural heritage in all regions. Yet, it is Canadian citizenship that unites us all in our love of country and our sense of belonging.

Canadians understand that citizenship is a right that carries with it responsibilities. As citizens of Canada, we share many duties, not the least of which is to contribute to the continued growth and development of our country as a free and prosperous nation. Canadian citizenship also embodies a wide range of everyday responsibilities, such as practicing mutual respect and understanding and contributing to the betterment of our community and country. We are also called upon to obey established laws, pay taxes, serve on juries, and vote in elections. As citizens, we have a responsibility to develop a knowledge and appreciation of Canada's history, geography, bilingual and multicultural fabric and the symbols that serve to make us all truly Canadian.

We are distinct from other nations in the world. Canada is a great, beautiful country to live in from "Sea to Sea"! So, I hope as we approach the August long weekend, "Heritage Day" or civic holiday, we will take time to remember why we are celebrating.

Six new track records at St. Walburg

July 22 and 23 was a weekend for new track records at St. Walburg SK as the Canadian Professional Chuckwagon Association held their annual meet. On Saturday night, the record was broken four times and on Sunday it was broken twice. Wayne Knight of St. Walburg set the newest record for his home-town track at 1:05.30 with the Mac Well Servicing outfit.

When the dust had settled, it was Saturday's day money winner Luke Tournier of Duck Lake, SK with the Tri City Gravel Contractors outfit who took the show with a two day total time of 2:12.07, giving him the edge over Rod Salmond of Hudson Bay, SK with a total time of 2:12.46. Another home-town teamster, Jim Knight, was third with a total of 2:12.52.

Standings after St. Walburg showed Wayne Knight in first place overall, Jim Knight second, Rae Croteau Jr. of Bonnyville third, Luke Tournier fourth, Bert Croteau of Bonnyville fifth, Doug Irvine of Lindbergh sixth, Larry McEwen of Lloydminster seventh, Rod Salmond eighth, Wayne Dagg of Melfort, SK ninth, and Stu Napper of Lashburn, SK, tenth.

The CPCA takes a break this weekend, but will run in North Battleford, SK next Tuesday and Wednesday, August 8 and 9, at 6:30 p.m. each day and in Cold Lake on August 11, 12 and 13 at 7:00 p.m. each day, as they rack up the final points before the finals, August 17 to 20 in Lloydminster.

Foods that counter the "snack attack"

By Carol Moro
Take Off Pounds Sensibly

Everybody who has ever had an appetite is subject to the snack attack. Whether we fight it, deny it, or indulge it, the urge to splurge between meals has always been with us - and probably always will be.

But that's okay. In fact, healthy and controlled snacking can work for us as we try to lose or maintain weight. One important factor is having the right foods on hand at snack time. Here are some ideas:

■ Keep washed, cut-up raw vegetables in the refrigerator at home and at work. Choose from broccoli and cauliflower florets; zucchini and cucumber slices; green pepper rings; pre-washed and peeled baby carrots; celery sticks; and cherry tomatoes.

■ Ginger snaps, fig bars, graham crackers, vanilla wafers and animal crackers have a lower fat content than most cookies.

■ Plain air-popped popcorn, low-fat pretzels, and flavored rice cakes satisfy common cravings for crunchy, salty or buttery tastes, yet they contain little or no fat.

■ Make your own flavored yogurt by buying plain low-fat yogurt and stirring in fruit, spices, jelly, flavored extracts (coffee, vanilla, butterscotch, etc.) and/or artificial sweetener.

■ Oranges make a good snack with few calories, zero fat, and high vitamin C content. As a bonus, you get some fiber. Grapes and cherries are great treats, too.

■ Bananas satisfy a sweet tooth yet provide few calories (about 100 per medium banana) and little fat. Bananas also provide lots of potassium and vitamin C.

■ Bread sticks can provide maximum crunch with minimum fat (check the label to be sure).

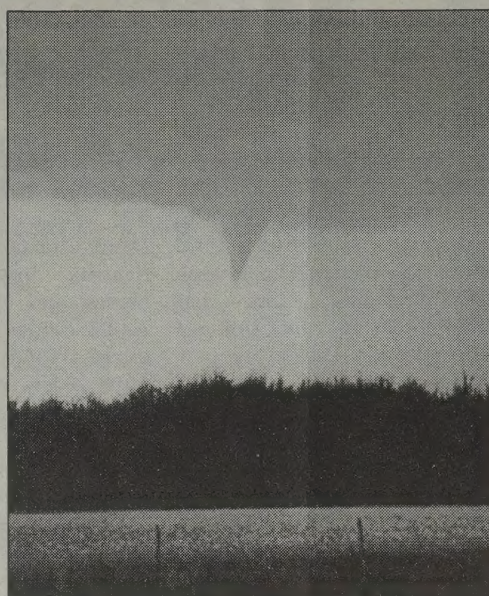

■ A bowl of bouillon or broth makes a savory snack. Check labels to ensure a low fat and salt content.

■ Small bagels, especially when flavored with cinnamon and raisin, make a sweet treat even without fattening spreads.

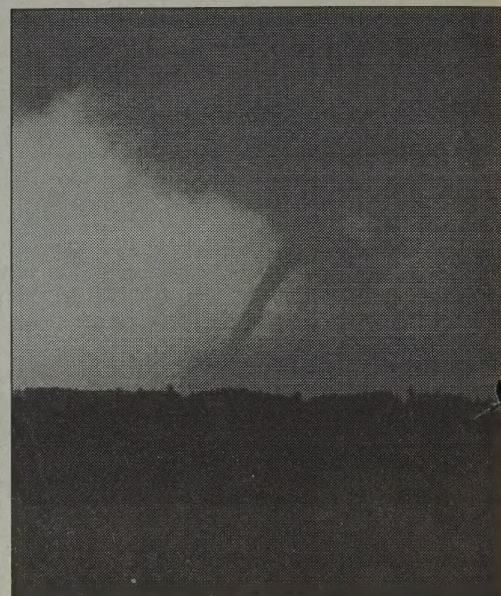

■ Flavored no-calorie seltzers help keep you hydrated so you won't mistake thirst for hunger.

■ Dried fruits - apricots, apples, raisins, prunes and figs - make good "on the run" sweet treats. Keep calorie counts in mind, though.

■ If you like to dip your low-fat chips, choose salsa over creamy dips. Salsa has lower fat, and its zesty flavor satisfies taste buds more effectively.

FUNNEL SIGHTED — The tornado which wiped out a Marwayne area was clearly visible from the highway north of Lloydminster in the late afternoon of July 23. Photos by Janet Antonio

Tips for surviving a tornado

When it comes to natural catastrophes, like tornadoes, we like to think it will never happen to us. But the fact is, they occur all too frequently. The recent tragedy in Pine Lake, Alberta underscores how deadly and unpredictable tornadoes can be. In what survivors called "30 seconds of sheer terror" the devastation wrought and the loss of 11 lives seems incomprehensible.

Did you know that Alberta has the dubious distinction of being the second most tornado-prone area on the continent with 268 twisters touching down in the last 17 years?

Have you ever wondered what you would do if your home was struck by a tornado? Would it be covered by insurance?

The answer is "yes" according to a home insurance expert. "People often think that 'Acts of God' are not covered by insurance, but they are. In fact, tornado damage is included in a standard homeowner's insurance policy under the wind-storm or hail peril."

Most insurance companies have a system in place that immediately sends adjusters to disaster sites to assess damage and ensure that people have shelter and receive money as fast as possible to help put their lives back together.

WHAT TO DO BEFORE A TORNADO:

■ Be aware of any storm warnings and know which radio or television stations broadcast up-to-the-minute weather information for your areas. Know the name of your forecast region and county.

■ Have emergency supplies on hand (e.g. food, first aid kit), and keep a battery operated radio, flashlight and a supply of batteries in a convenient place.

■ Make sure everyone in your household knows in advance where to go and what to do in case of a tornado warning.

WHAT TO DO DURING A TORNADO:

■ Take cover immediately if a tornado warning is issued. Too often people do not take these warnings seriously enough. Stay calm and don't panic.

■ You might actually reduce property damage by opening all windows. While this may sound strange, it's true. The heart of a tornado has greatly reduced pressure. If the tornado encounters a building and the windows and doors are closed, the pressure drop is so sudden that the building has no chance to equalize itself. The result is that the walls and windows explode outward. If windows and doors are fully open, the pressure may be able to drop quickly enough to prevent such damage.

■ For maximum safety, go down to the basement and seek shelter in a closet, under a stairway or a heavy piece of furniture on the lowest level. If that's not possible, try to reach the centre of the house or the side away from the storm.

■ Avoid being caught in buildings with large areas of unsupported roof including arenas, barns, or supermarkets. If that's not possible, seek out the lowest floor, an inside hallway or small interior windowless room, or get under something sturdy.

■ Do not remain in your car as it provides the least amount of safety. Many people have been killed trying to ride out a tornado. You are no match for the swift, erratic movements of a tornado, which sometimes has wind speeds of more than 320 km (200 miles) per hour.

■ If you are caught in the open, find a ditch, ravine or other depression and lie flat with your arms over your head. If no shelter can be found, hang on to the base of a small tree or shrub.

■ If a tornado strikes during school hours, teachers should keep children away from windows and seek shelter either in designated areas or in interior hallways. Concerned parents should not attempt to pick their children up at school.

WHAT TO DO AFTER A TORNADO:

■ Be alert for potential hazards. Take extreme care when moving about in an area damaged by a tornado. Remember that damaged and weakened structures, fallen debris, downed power lines and gas leaks are potential dangers after a storm has passed.

■ Contact your insurance representative as soon as possible. If your property is damaged, make temporary repairs to prevent further loss from rain, wind and looting. Keep your receipts - the cost of temporary repairs may be reimbursed under your insurance policy.

■ Replacing a house with all of your belongings is no small task. It's a good idea to keep an inventory of your possessions in a safe place (a safety deposit box is best). That way, if your home is damaged or destroyed, the inventory will help to establish your loss and speed payment of your insurance claim. It's important to update this record on a regular basis. Recording your possessions can be done in a number of ways: Write down a description of your possessions room by room and keep any receipts with the list. Videotape a walk through your house, verbally describing the items you're taping, including serial numbers and purchase dates. Take pictures of the major items and attach the receipts to the back of the photo. Some insurance companies have developed inventory forms to make the job easier.

what's NEWS at the LIBRARY?

It's summertime at Elk Point Public Library!

By Carlen Mutch and
Daphne Schnurer
Elk Point Public Library

We had 24 children in our Monday summer reading program session. The kids have been learning some very interesting and always amazing things about bugs. Truthfully, we have not sent any of the real live specimens home. The next two sessions, July 31 and August 2, will be our Water Days. Be sure to bring a bathing suit and towel and be ready to get wet.

IMPORTANT REMINDER: to everyone to return their overdue books as soon as possible. We have an outside book return for your convenience. Many of these books are brand new and we have other patrons anxious to take them out.

Because of the August long weekend, the LIBRARY WILL BE CLOSED MONDAY, AUGUST 7.

Summer Library Hours:

Mondays: 11 a.m. - 5 p.m.
Tuesdays: noon - 5:30 p.m.
Wednesdays: 1-9 p.m.
Thursdays: noon-5:30 p.m.
Fridays: 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Summer Reading Program

Hours and times:

Monday - Ages 4 - 7, 1:30 - 3:00 p.m.

Wednesday - Ages 8 to 11 - 1:30 - 3:00 p.m.

NO PROGRAM on Monday, August 7. All Summer Reading Program participants can attend the special session presented by the Northern Lights Summer Reading Program Coordinators on August 9.
